THE BACHELOR OF ARTS DEGREE IN HISTORY (HIST)

The study of History is an important part of the journey for intellectual development and human understanding. Through a study of History, we cultivate and develop an understanding of the varieties of the human experience. History helps students develop analytical skills to interpret both the past and the present as well as identify trends and explore human existence. History helps students appreciate both the possibilities and the limits of our own age.

The History program at Huston-Tillotson University provides students with a global perspective and solid grounding in the methods and fields of History. The History program prepares students to find patterns, ideologies, experiences, and narratives that can serve as connecting points for diverse communities and societies. With their knowledge of the past and their historical perspective, History students go on to careers in all levels of education, government, and law, as well as social service, communications, museum and archival work, and business.

History majors seeking teacher certification should see the degree program for certification in History in the Teacher Education section of this Bulletin.

THE MINOR IN AFRICAN AND AFRICAN AMERICAN STUDIES

Description and objectives
This interdisciplinary, comparative, and cross-cultural unit of courses allows students to examine critically important information derived from a variety of academic disciplines included in the broad fields of African Studies and African Diaspora Studies. The minor encompasses courses that cover the histories, socio-political constructs, religions, literature, music, and philosophies of African and African-descendant peoples. Beyond the acquisition of knowledge, the minor in African and African American Studies will introduce students to methodologies for the application of their acquired knowledge through internships, research projects, and perspectives about social change.

Requirements for the Minor in African and African American Studies
1. The minor comprises 18 semester hours (6 courses). Two of the six courses must be history courses.
2. A grade of C or higher is required in all minor courses.
3. There is one required course for the minor. Students may choose:
   AFAS 2319 Introduction to African and African American Studies or
   HIST 1381 Introduction to the African American Experience
4. Students select five (5) additional courses to complete the minor.
   HIST 2381 African American History I
   HIST 2382 African American History II
   HIST 3357 African History
   HIST 4334 Race Relations
   HIST 4336 Special Topics with African & African American content
   ENGL 2304 Introduction to African American Literature
   ENGL 4373 African American Literature
   ENGL 4353 Special Topics in Literary and Communication Arts with African & African American content

           African American content
PSYC 413  Psychology of the African American Experience
SOCI 323  Minority Group Relations

COURSES IN AFRICAN AND AFRICAN AMERICAN STUDIES (AFAS)

AFAS 2319  Introduction to African & African American Studies  3 Credit Hours
An exploration of some of the key texts, authors, ideologies, and issues in African and African American Studies from a range of disciplinary perspectives. If possible, the course will be team taught with two or more members of the faculty leading class discussions in their areas of specialization. In the alternative, one faculty member will serve as the primary instructor and coordinate the schedules of colleagues from other disciplines to give lectures and lead discussion sessions.
Prerequisite: None  Offered: Fall/Spring

AFAS 2333  Afro-Latino Culture  3 Credit Hours
This course offers a survey of the history, literature, music, art or socio-political imperatives of the populations of African descent in the Americas.
Prerequisite: ENGL 1301  Offered: Fall/Spring

AFAS 3325  Supervised Reading and Research  3 Credit Hours
Prior to enrollment, students must consult with the program coordinator to identify a topic or topics for approval and to identify the proposed instructor who will supervise and grade the student’s reading and research activities.
Prerequisite: None  Offered: Yearly

AFAS 3353  Women and Families in Africa and the Diaspora  3 Credit Hours
Employing a social science or humanities-based methodology, this course will examine issues relating to women and the dynamics of race and gender roles in various nations of Africa and the African Diaspora. Course themes may emphasize any of the following disciplinary perspectives, including history, political science, psychology, literature, or sociology.
Prerequisite: ENGL 1301  Offered: Fall/Every Two Years

AFAS 3363  Topics in African and African American Studies  3 Credit Hours
This series of courses will provide opportunities for semester-long, in-depth study and analysis of issues, theories, personalities, and events of significance concerning Africa and the African Diaspora, its people, their challenges, and their opportunities.
Prerequisite: ENGL 1301  Offered: As Needed
AFAS 4323  Internship  3 Credit Hours
Students wishing to enroll must consult with the program coordinator for review and selection of internship positions and approval of a specific internship project. Prerequisite: One of the following courses: Offered: As Needed
AFAS 2319, HIST 1381, HIST 3382, OR SOCI 3319

THE MINOR IN RELIGIOUS STUDIES (RELI)

Description and objectives
In this program students will become familiar with a diverse range of religious phenomena. They will be able to compare foundational beliefs among many religious traditions (including the Zulu religion, Hinduism, Buddhism, Taoism, Confucianism, Judaism, Christianity, and Islam) about such topics as human nature, the origin of the universe, life after death, gender roles, the relation between science and religion, the relation between religion and philosophy, and the grounding of ethics. The instruction will focus on helping students develop 1) their own approach to religious diversity, 2) their own perspective on religion and spirituality, 3) an ability to interpret scripture, 4) credentials for ministry and/or further scholarship, 5) an awareness and understanding of key 21st century issues surrounding religion, such as the manner of promoting religious tolerance, the role of religion in global ethics, the ability of religion to promote environmental awareness, the compatibility of deep religious differences, the role of religion in local and global politics, the part religion plays in race relations, the role of gender in the world’s religion, and the relation between science and religion.

Requirements for the Minor in Religious Studies
The minor comprises 18 semester hours of courses beyond the Core Curriculum requirement of 3 semester hours of either “Philosophy and Ethics” or “Comparative Religion.”

1. The following 12 hours are required for the minor:
   RELI 2302 Comparative Religion or PHIL 2301 Philosophy and Ethics.
   One of these two classes satisfies the Core Curriculum requirement.  The other satisfies a requirement for the minor. Both classes must be taken to graduate with the minor.
   RELI 3303 Philosophy of Religion
   RELI 3304 Interpretation of the Bible
   RELI 3305 Science and Religion

2. Six hours of elective courses chosen from the following:
   RELI 3306 History of Christianity
   RELI 3308 Special Topics in Religion: “American Religious History,” “Chinese Religions,” “Religion and Ethics,” “Methodology for Inter-religious Dialogue.”

3. Students must also fulfill 20 hours of service learning engaged in a project centered on a particular religious community. The service learning can be ministry or research oriented.
COURSES IN RELIGION (RELI)
AND PHILOSOPHY (PHIL)

RELI 2302 Comparative Religion 3 Credit Hours
This course describes and compares the fundamental beliefs and practices of many religions from the East and West, from the North and the South, and from both pre-historic and historic times, although emphasis will be on present day religions. This course compares the religions with respect to their views on: 1) the origin of our universe, 2) the nature and meaning of the individuality of persons, 3) the individual’s relation to society, 4) the natural environment, and 5) the role of women. Other topics include the future of religion, the relation between religious belief and science, the diversity within religions, and the basis for dialogue among religions. Emphasis is placed on the challenge religious diversity gives to belief retention.
Prerequisite: ENGL 1301
Offered: Fall/Spring Yearly

PHIL 2301 Philosophy and Ethics 3 Credit Hours
This course presents foundational and diverse perspectives on key issues engaged in philosophy and ethics. We compare thinkers from the East and West, the North and South, in order to highlight the unique qualities of each. We discuss, in a comparative fashion, central philosophers from many different periods of philosophy. Stressing primary texts, we consider the philosophers in their historical contexts, and discuss their answers to central philosophical issues such as the foundations of 1) religion, 2) ethics, 3) reality, 4) knowledge, 5) individuality, and 6) freedom. Emphasis is placed on the challenge religious and philosophical diversity gives to belief retention.
Prerequisite: ENGL 1301
Offered: Fall/Spring Yearly

PHIL 2307 Logic 3 Credit Hours
This course will rigorously introduce students to central forms of argumentation. Emphasis will be on helping students learn how to argue better in speech and writing. Skills learned here will help students deepen and better organize their thoughts and arguments in speech and writing so as to express better what is meant in an argument and to be more convincing. We will learn several systems of logic: categorical, propositional, predicate, and modal. We will investigate some of the most central and difficult issues within the study of logic.
Prerequisite: ENGL 1301
Offered: Once Every Two Years

RELI 3303 Philosophy of Religion 3 Credit Hours
In this class we explore answers to some of the most important issues surfacing during the long history of the philosophy of religion. The course will facilitate the development of each participants’ views on crucial life issues such as: 1) The relation between reason and faith, 2) The nature of religious experience, 3) The possibility of a rational justification for religious belief, 4) The possibility of miracles, 5) The problem of evil, 6) The relation between science and religion, 7) The possibility of unity among religions, and 8) The nature of religious knowledge. Students will produce research papers arguing for what they believe is the best way of relating faith and reason.

Prerequisite: ENGL 1301

Offered: Once Every Two Years

RELI 3304 Interpretation of the Bible
3 Credit Hours

Contemporary understandings of both the Old Testament and New Testament will be explored in this class. The course will take a historical approach to the study of scripture, pointing out the influences of temporal context wherever possible. This course introduces students to the central tools within the study of the Bible. The historical-critical method is thoroughly described. Students will produce two exegetical papers using the tools they have learned for interpreting and understanding the Bible.

Prerequisite: ENGL 1301

Offered: Once Every Two Years

RELI 3305 Science and Religion
3 Credit Hours

This course explores many ways of relating religion and science, and starts with the fourfold classification system developed by Ian Barbour for relating science and religion (they conflict, can be integrated, are independent, or can dialogue). The course compares how knowledge is attained in the sciences to how knowledge is acquired in religion. The course describes the history of attempts to relate science and religion, focusing on Galileo, Newton, and Darwin. It describes the evolutionary theory within modern Biology and discusses different ways religious people respond to it. It examines the significance modern perspectives on the origin of the universe have for competing religious views. Developments in neuroscience and quantum physics are discussed as they related to religious views about the individual and the nature of reality.

Prerequisite: ENGL 1301

Offered: Once Every Two Years

RELI 3306 History of Christianity
3 Credit Hours

This course presents the history of Christianity. It discusses the Roman, Jewish, and Near Eastern contexts in which Christianity was born, the life and teachings of Jesus Christ, and asks the question “To what extent can we have knowledge about the life of Jesus?” The course explores the teaching of St. Paul and his impact on the development of Christianity. The course describes the formation of New Testament scripture, explains the major developments in the Patristic, Medieval, and Modern periods of Christian history, and discusses the key ideas, events, figures, and developments of the Protestant Reformation.

Prerequisite: ENGL 1301

Offered: Once Every Two Years

RELI 3308 Special Topics in Religion

This course investigates a particular topic of current interest in religious studies. The topic will vary from year to year depending on student interest and faculty research.

Prerequisite: None

Offered: Once Every Two Years
